Have you had this problem? You put up a basketball hoop for the enjoyment of your family, friends or customers and next thing you know you're the neighborhood hangout.

That's fine as long as you want it, but what about when you don't? How do you stop others from using your basketball hoop when you don't want them to?

Well I had that exact same situation and I discovered there wasn't anything on the market to help me. So I invented the HOOPBOOT.

The HOOPBOOT is a simple and attractive device made of steele that installs easily over the whole basket hoop and then you simply apply a lock to it. Done! No more trespassing, vandalisim or unwanted visitors. Apply the lock and forget it and unless someone brings a blow torch with them they won't be using your property without your permission.

Schools, Playgrounds, Parks, Recreation Centers, Churches, Private Homes, You name it! Anyone who wants to take control of their property will appreciate this product.

The HOOPBOOT not only gives you peace of mind, but it also removes the possible liability if someone is hurt on your property. We put up fences to stop others from using our pools, why not lock your basketball hoop to prevent unauthorized use.

Made of steele the HOOPBOOT comes in a beautiful fire engine orange or basic black. Easy to install and remove. Wind and weather resistant, this means your HOOPBOOT will be doing it's job for many years to come.

Take control of your basketball hoop. Let others play when you want to and stop when you want. Easy to install and easy to remove. Let them play when you want and NOT when you don't.
